

Tom Warnecke (PgDip, ECP) is a psychotherapist, researcher and psycho-social campaigner based in London. He teaches psychotherapy and psychotherapy supervision internationally and developed a relational-somatic approach to Borderline trauma. His publications include various book chapters and journal articles (www.integralbody.co.uk) and he regularly contributes at European forums or congresses. He is an co-editor for the international Journal for Body, Dance and Movement in Psychotherapy, webcast editor for www.psychotherapyexcellence.com, and published the book The Psyche in the Modern World - Psychotherapy and Society (Karnac 2015). He is a member of the EAP Executive Committee and a past Vice-chair for the UK Council for Psychotherapy (UKCP).